Course Description

DFOR/TCOM 661 - Digital Media Forensics (3:3:0)

Prerequisites: DFOR 510 and a working knowledge of computer operating systems (e.g., CYSE 211, IT 342, or equivalent) or permission from instructor. This course deals with the collection, preservation, and analysis of digital media such that the evidence can be successfully presented in a court of law (both civil and criminal). The relevant federal laws will be examined as well as private sector applications. The seizure, preservation, and analysis of digital media will be examined in this course.

Textbooks

- Digital Forensics Workbook by Michael K. Robinson (ISBN: 1517713609/ISBN-13: 978-1517713607) – MANDATORY
- Additional required supplies for this course will be discussed the first week of class.

Grading

The grade for the course is determined from a calculation of points on a 0 to 100 point scale, which will be assessed on the following components:

Homework (3@15% each)	45%
Article Presentations (2@5% each)	10%
Mid-term exam	20%
Final Project	20%
Class participation	5 %

Homework

Three small projects (Homework) will be assigned during the semester (see schedule).

Homework must be posted to Blackboard before the due date and time specified on Blackboard.

Blackboard Discussion Board & Class participation

Please post and answer your fellow classmates' questions via Blackboard. The purpose of this is to allow students to communicate amongst each other. Conversation does not include sharing of work. This, along with in-person participation, will make up your participation grade.

Article Presentations

Students must prepare and present two 5-minute PowerPoint presentations on articles relative to course content. The article should not come from advertisement or blogs. Students will present on two different topics during the semester (see schedule). Presentations should be conducted on different dates.

Mid-term exam

The mid-term exam will be taken online, using Blackboard, and will cover material discussed in up until exam date. Absolutely no conversation/collaboration allowed on the final.

Final Project

The final project must be uploaded to Blackboard by 11:59pm on the final week (see schedule). Students will be responsible for conducting an individual forensic analysis of a drive that will be issued during the third class. Students are not allowed to collaborate on the final project.

Late Work

Assignments will not be accepted late. This policy will be strictly enforced. In the event of an unusual and dire emergency, contact the instructor before an assignment is due. You may be required to provide evidence of your emergency to be considered for alternative accommodation.

Graduate Grading Scale

A+ (97-100), A (93-96), A- (90-92), B+ (88-89), B 83-87, B- (80-82), C (70-79), & F (0-69)

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend each class to complete any required preparatory work (including assigned reading) and to participate actively in lectures, discussions and exercises. As members of the academic community, all students are expected to contribute regardless of their proficiency with the subject matter.

Students are expected to make prior arrangements with Instructor if they know in advance that they will miss any class and to consult with the Instructor if they miss any class without prior notice.

Departmental policy requires students to take exams at the scheduled time and place, unless there are truly compelling circumstances supported by appropriate documentation. Except in such circumstances, failure to attend a scheduled exam may result in a grade of zero (0) for that exam.

Important Dates

Semester Calendars/Deadlines (<https://registrar.gmu.edu/calendars/>)

Religious Holiday Calendar (<https://ulife.gmu.edu/religious-holiday-calendar/>)

Communication

Communication on issues relating to the individual student should be conducted using email or telephone. Email is the preferred method – for urgent messages, you should also attempt to contact the Instructor via telephone. Email messages from the Instructor must be sent to students' GMU email addresses – if you use another email account, you should forward your GMU email to that account.

Lecture slides are complements to the lecture process, not substitutes for it - access to lecture slides will be provided as a courtesy to students provided acceptable attendance is maintained.

Honor Code

The material provided in the course is proprietary. Uploading this material anywhere without the express permission of the instructor is strictly prohibited and a violation of the Mason Honor Code. (See <https://oai.gmu.edu/>)

Students are required to be familiar and comply with the requirements of the GMU Honor Code (available at <https://oai.gmu.edu/mason-honor-code/>).

All assessable work is to be completed by the individual student. Students must NOT collaborate on the exam or final project.

In order to fully exchange information and ensure complete candor in discussions, the policy of non-attribution will be STRICTLY enforced.

Disability Accommodations

If you have a documented learning disability or other condition that may affect academic performance you should: 1) make sure this documentation is on file with Office of Disability Services (SUB I, Rm. 2500; 703-993-2474; <http://ods.gmu.edu>) to determine the accommodations you need; and 2) talk with me to discuss your accommodation needs.

If you are a student with a disability and you need academic accommodations, please see me and contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS) at 703-993-2474, <http://ods.gmu.edu>. All academic accommodations must be arranged through the ODS.

If you have a learning or physical difference that may affect your academic work, you will need to furnish appropriate documentation to the Office of Disability Services. If you qualify for accommodation, the ODS staff will give you a form detailing appropriate accommodations for your instructor. In addition to providing your professors with the appropriate form, please take the initiative to discuss accommodation with them at the beginning of the semester and as needed during the term. Because of the range of learning differences, faculty members need to learn from you the most effective ways to assist you. If you have contacted the Office of Disability Services and are waiting to hear from a counselor, please tell me.

Privacy

Students must use their GMU email account to receive important University information, including messages related to this class. See <http://masonlive.gmu.edu> for more information.
